

September 5, 2024

Workers at centre stage across the country in Labour Day celebrations, registration is open for the Health and Safety conference and the BIWOC conference, Unifor applies to represent workers at the Mississauga Walmart warehouse, the case for built-in-Canada ships, and updates in Nova Scotia healthcare bargaining.

 WHAT'S HOT

 TAKE ACTION

Watch rank-and-file Unifor members and leaders march in the Toronto Labour Day parade and talk about this year's theme: "workers shape our future".

WATCH VIDEO

Register today for Unifor's 5th National Health and Safety Conference "Workplace Safety – Back to the Basics and Beyond" to take place Nov. 1–3, 2024.

READ MORE

IN THE NEWS

Unifor participated in Labour Day parades and events across Canada with a message that this is the time to fight for workers.

READ MORE

Workers at Walmart in Mississauga are one step closer to forming a strong union in their workplace after Unifor filed an application on Sept. 3.

READ MORE

The Halifax Shipyard just delivered its fifth AOPS vessel to the Royal Canadian Navy. Read Jennifer Murray's editorial about the importance of built-in-Canada ships.

READ MORE

Register today to attend the BIWOC Conference to be held at the Unifor Family Education Center during October 25 to 27, 2024.

READ MORE

BARGAINING UPDATES

The Nova Scotia Council of Health Care Unions reached a tentative agreement for the nearly 9,000 members in the Health Care bargaining unit.

READ MORE