

2006-01-04

YOUR FUTURE WITH BELL

As you begin the New Year with hopes and aspirations it is important that you keep your employment in focus and up to date. You are due for your annual review soon and this is an excellent time to ensure from your manager that you are getting the training required to keep you relevant in this communication technology. As an example, Bell is expanding its voip resources which means more opportunities to expand your horizons. We must be assertive in learning all new technologies that Bell Canada has or risk losing these jobs. If you are refused training by your manager contact your local 25 Steward immediately.

Your local 25 executive wishes you're a productive & safe New Year.