Federal Election:

Unifor position on the election is to encourage strategic voting. They are asking the membership to choose the most likely candidate to defeat a Conservative while supporting incumbents in non-Conservative held ridings. The importance of having fair legislation so workers can negotiate with companies is vital.

Enacting anti-union legislation harms contract negotiations and ultimately costs workers their benefits or lowered pay schedules. We should not be asked to bear further cuts next contract with the government harming our bargaining position before we sit down to negotiate.

Please visit uniforvotes.com for more details on the Unifor perspective.
